COVID-19 & Feeding the Hungry Safety Protocol

The order has limited restrictions, only related to masking and mega-events, as well as settings serving children and youth pending an expected update to the K-12 schools guidance by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

ProduceGood is operating under specific safety precautions to support the growing need for food assistance throughout our community. Using common sense as a general guide, we ask all ProduceGood staff and volunteers to comply with the current state mandates, as they unfold. Together, we can increase safe access to nutrition for children and families during this uncertain time. We thank you for benefiting the well-being of our community.

Growers & Volunteers

If you are a grower picking fruit on your own property or a volunteer picking on someone else's property, you will:

- Make sure all fruit is free of stems and leaves
- No ladders allowed
- Use paper bags, cardboard boxes, and unwanted bags to hold fruit

Driving Volunteers

If you are transporting fruit from a property to a food bank or pantry, you will:

- Not enter the homeowner's house or allow others in your car
- When delivering to the food bank or pantry, make best effort at no human contact (i.e. leave bags/boxes of fruit in the drop off area.
- Receive day, time, and location drop off instruction and confirm delivery with PG. You are a volunteer representative of ProduceGood and we are an approved agency from whom the food banks will accept citrus donations.

We appreciate your dedication to the health of our community and following our guidelines while volunteering. For more complete information about the COVID-19 virus please visit:
